WILSON LEADS HUGHES

From Present Indications Democrats Will Have Majority in Electoral College

New York, Nov. 8—Upon the final tabulation of the vote in California and Minnesota depends the choice of the American people for President of the United States.

Woodrow Wilson was within ten votes at 2 o'clock this afternoon of the whole number needed to insure his re-election and at that hour the result in both California and Minnesota was in doubt.

If Wilson carries either State his re-election is practically assured. If he carries both States there is no doubt of the result.

Minnesota returns indicate that Wilson will win there, but enough doubt still exists to prevent the State being set down as certain for him.

Wilson is leading in California on the vote counted so far and Democratic papers in California claim he has carried the State.

On the other hand, the Republican national committee at noon formally announced its claim that Wilson had lost both California and Minnesota with their twenty-five votes.

New York, Nov. 8—Kansas is now conceded to Wilson by practically every political expert in this city.

The Democrats have been claiming the State since dawn. The Republicans admit that the situation there looks hopeless. They have not yet conceded the State to the President.

California and Minnesota are now the States on which all eyes center. If the President carries either he is elected, as he needs only ten votes, he having 256 with Kansas.

The doubtful States of California and Minnesota are both claimed for Wilson on the basis of the returns received from those States up to 11 o'clock this morning.

Republican leaders admit the drift in Minnesota toward the President is very strong, and that the State looks Democratic.

The Democratic national committee claims Wilson has 264 sure votes, Hughes 247 sure, and California with thirteen votes, New Hampshire with four, and ..ew Mexico with three, as doubtful.

Committee has just received telegram from Fred Lynch national committeeman from Minnesota, claiming that State for Wilson by 10,000. Democrats insist Wilson is gaining in New Hampshire.

California is showng Wilson in the lead on the late morning returns, and Oregon is put in the Democratic column by most of the newspapers in their morning extras.

Wilson needed ten votes at 11 o'clock to elect him. Either California or Minnesota will give him victory.

Frank Hitchcock, original Hughes booster, and political experts of the Republican camp, declared at 10:32 today that the election of Hughes now depends on the result in California and Minnesota.

Washington, Nov. 8—The Next Senate—Democrats, 49; Republicans, 47.

Next House—Democrats, 216; Republicans, 216; Socialist, 1; Progressive Protectionist, 1; Independent, 1.

The Senate will remain in the control of the Democrats. This fact was settled this morning with the news that in Delaware Senator du Pont had been defeated by J. O. Wolcott, of Wilmington.

The defeat of Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island by Peter Goelet Gerry, was a surprise, and served to handicap the Republican efforts to carry the Senate.

Early returns also indicate the defeat of Senator Sutherland in Utah. William H. King is his Democratic opponent.

The Republicans have gained by the election of Calder in New York, Watson and New, in Indiana, France in Maryland and Frelinghuyeen in New Jersey.

They gained one in Maine in September by election of Hale.

The chances favor the election of Herrick in Ohio against Senator Pomerene, although this is close and uncertain.

Senator Ashurst will probably be returned from Arizona. In California, Gov. Hiram Johnson is elected to the Senate. The West Virginia contest is still undecided with prospects favoring Sutherland; the Republican candidate against Chilton.

In Minnesota, Frank B. Kellogg is believed elected. Senator La Follette is re-elected in Wisconsin. In North Dakota Senator McCumber is re-elected, and the indications favor Senator Myers in Montana. Wyoming is close with Senator Clark claiming it.

VIRGINIA STANDS FIRM

Democrats Elect Nine Congressmen, But Fail to Defeat Slemp in Ninth District

Richmond, Nov. 8.—For the first time since the adoption of the new Constitution, Richmond precincts have gone Republican in a general election, the First Madison and Fifth Lee precincts yesterday giving substantial majorities to Charles E. Hughes. The remaining twenty-nine precincts gave an overwhelming majority for Woodrow Wilson, although the Republicans made gains throughout the city. The Richmond vote was the largest since the second Cleveland election, a total of 9,406 ballots being cast. Of this number Wilson received 6,989 while Hughes got 1,182.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 8.—Virginia yesterday elected nine Democratic Congressmen, with incomplete returns from the Ninth district indicating the re-election of C. B. Slemp, the Republican incumbent. All of the nine Democrats except one, Thomas W. Harrison, of the Seventh district, were re-elected. Harrison was opposed by John Paul, Republican, and while a hot fight was waged, the Democrats rallied and scored a signal victory.

Claude A. Swanson, for the United States Senate, was unopposed, as was Andrew J. Montague, Democrat, for Congress in the Third district.

Wilson and Marshall polled the usual Democratic majority out of approximately 140,000 votes cast.

The Congressional race, as shown by returns at 10:30 o'clock, stood as follows:

First District—William A. Jones, Democrat, re-elected over W. T. Butzner, Republican, by a large majority.

Second —Edward E. Holland defeated L. B. Way, Republican

Third—Andrew J. Montague, Democrat (unopposed by Republican). Socialist vote small.

Fourth—Walter A. Watson, Democrat, re-elected by a 2 to 1 vote over W. B. Alfred, Republican.

Fifth—E. W. Saunders, Democrat, re-elected by an estimated majority of 2,900 over Beverly Davis, Republican.

Sixth—Carter Glass, Democrat, re-elected by an overwhelming majority over George W. Wilson, Republican.

Seventh — Thomas W. Harrison, Democrat, defeated John Paul, Republican.

Eighth—Charles C. Carlin, Democrat,re-elected over Joseph L. Crupper Republican.

Ninth — Returns incomplete, but indicate re-election of C. Bascom Slemp, Republican, over E. Lee Trinkle, Democrat.

Tenth—Hal D. Flood, Democrat, over whelmed Charles P. Nair, Republican.

The constitutional amendments were not voted upon, because the Legislature failed to provide the necessary machinery for putting the question before the people.

CAN DRINK IN PRIVATE ALLEY

So Rules Court Which Dismisses Charge

It is not a violation of the prohibition laws to take a drink in a private alley. This was brought out today in the Richmond police court when J. H. Lynch, a middle-aged man, faced the charge of drinking in an alley in the rear of a soft drink and confectionery store Monday afternoon. Lynch was caught in the alley by Patrolman Green drinking from a half pint bottle. He was charged with drinking in a public thoroughfare and with being drunk. When it developed in court yesterday that the place was a private alley Justice Crutchfield decided to fine him only for being drunk.

Fine of $10 was imposed as is usual in such cases. Lynch is employed as cashier in a Broad street restaurant He said it was the first drink he had taken in two years.

"WETS" CARRY BALTIMORE.

Monumental City Snowed Under Prohibition at Yesterday's Election

Prohibition was snowed under in Baltimore in yesterday's election. Apparently the same thing happened in Baltimore county, but the returns from there are not as conclusive as those in the city. Annapolis likewise is reported to have gone "wet" by 500 votes, while in Ellicott City, the only place voting on the question from which definite returns have been received, the "drys" lost out by 26 votes.

The results in Baltimore city were a surprise even to the most rabid anti-prohibitionists. At midnight returns from 151 precincts out of a total of 316 showed a majority in favor of the sale of liquor of 21,516. These figures indicate a majority against prohibition in the entire city of between 40,000 and 50,000 votes.

Only the lower precincts in Baltimore county have been heard from, but they piled up such a lead for the "wets" that no one has any idea that the upper precincts, which are expected to go "dry" can overcome it.

Prohibition was voted upon also in Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Carroll and Prince George's counties and in Havre de Grace and the Brooklyn and Curtis Bay district of Anne Arundel county. No definite information has been receeived from any of these places.

Prince George's county, (opposite Alexandria) is said to be very close. The fight out there was a red hot one and a good deal of outside oratorical talent was brought in to help influence the voters.

SLEMP IS RE-ELECTED

Virginia Goes Democratic by 50,000 Plurality.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 8—On the face of early returns, President Wilson will carry Virginia by probably 50,000 majority.

Senator Swanson had no opposition for re-election.

Returns from all districts except the Ninth indicate the election of the Democratic candidates for Congress Representative C. B. Slemp has defeated Trinkle in the Ninth.

Virginia yesterday cast a normal vote, with increases in the Fifth, Seventh and Ninth districts, where Republican opposition was active. Incomplete returns from more than half of the 100 counties and 20 cities gave ground for the estimate that Woodrow Wilson carried the State by a big plurality.

In the Ninth district the election for representative was in doubt, at which time the Slemp headquarters claimed the district by between 1,200 and 1,500 majority. E. Lee Trinkle, the Democratic candidate, made inroads into the Republican majorities in several counties.

S. H. LUNT WINS.

AWAIT ELECTION NEWS

Large Crowds Gather in Streets, Other in Rooms of Bachelors' Club and Others Visit Washington.

While there was much apparent good nature on the surface last night among the democrats of Alexandria, there was also anxiety among the thinking members of the party. All hoped for the best, and while some were jubilant, there was uneasiness as the dispatches began to be flashed upon screens or read out in places into which private wires had been placed. Near the intersection of King and Washington streets a screen had been placed, upon which at times the pictures of Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes were flashed. A large crowd had gathered, and, as usual, a large percentage were young people. Both candidates were cheered as their pictures appeared.

A wire had been placed in the rooms of the Bachelors' Club, on the north side of King street, between Royal and Pitt, where the members of the organization together with a number of their friends gathered to hear dispatches read.

The early missives were ominous to the waiting democrats. The fact that the leading New York papers expressed the belief that Hughes had been elected was disappointing to them, and later dispatches seemed to confirm their forecasts.

Dispatches were received at the centres named above and other place until near midnight, at which time the crowds in the streets had considerably diminished. At that time nearly everything seemed to indicate that the republicans had been successful in the contest.

A large number of Alexandrians visited Washington during the night and augmented the multitudes which had gathered around newspaper offices, hotels and other places in that city where the news was being received.

The visitors returned on late trains and it was about two o'clock this morning before all had reached their homes.

ENTER NEW AVOCATIONS

Jacob Brill, who is located at the foot of King street, publishes a notice in another column in which he calls attention to the fact that he will, during the season, handle the best grades of oysters which come to this market. He has fitted up a separate room on the east of what was formerly his saloon, where Lynnhaven Bay, Tangier Sound and other higher grades of bivalves are stored. He hopes the community will accord him a share of their patronage.

A representative of the Gazette has during the past few days visited certain places where liquor was formerly dispensed. The proprietors were cheerful, some suggesting that they will be as well off in the future as if they had continued in the liquor business. They were required to make between four and five dollars a day to pay government, state and city taxes before they could lay aside a cent as profit. These former saloon keepers are now dispensing soft drinks, cakes and candy, peanuts, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. They suggest that now that they have cheerfully bowed to the law and obliterated everything suggestive of their former avocations, they are entitled to a living in the community, and the articles they are selling should be purchased from them as well as from shops handling similar goods.

One old resident who had been in the liquor business many years has pictures of Rev. Gypsy Smith and Prof. Cole, his chorister, posted almost at his front door. They were placed in position a month ago.

We are told that a time will come when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together and a little child shall lead them. The little girl can now enter the former abodes of Bacchus and purchase cakes or candy with no fear of encountering rude men or hearing language unfit for her ears.

The Gazette sincerely hopes that these tradesmen will be given a fair share of the patronage of the community and the encouragement they deserve.

PREMATURE REJOICING

Dispatches received in this city last night indicated that Charles E. Hughes had been elected President of the United States over Woodrow Wilson, the present incumbent. These tidings cast a gloom over Alexandria, a democratic stronghold these many years and life-long democrats wended their way home victims of disappointment and with more or less feelings of contempt for the capriciousness of humanity for turning down a man who has been tried—severely tried—and not found wanting.

The early morning newspapers corroborated the conclusions of last night and it was looked upon as a foregone conclusion that the present occupant of the White House, who has steered the ship of state through some of the wildest tempests that have beset the country since its birth, had but a few months to remain at his post.

Dispatches from New York told of pathetic scenes in the Hughes household, where husband and wife embraced and tears of joy fell as misleading dispatches were read.

Children and grandchildren had assembled and the air was full of glee. In the meantime the streets were filled with excitement, while pictures of the supposed victor were being flashed everywhere.

President Wilson at this time was as cool as ever. Surrounded by members of his family, he was tenaciously clinging to all that was left in Pandora's box—hope. But it was a hope, to use a scriptural phrase, "which maketh not ashamed—that is not misleading. He was patiently awaiting official figures—he was not ready to concede Mr. Hughes's election, and he thereby manifested what he has often done during the past four years—his foresight.

The sun had not ascended high today before a startling cry was heard,—to the republican organization, at least, but joyous to the thousands who had during the past few weeks been unable to see how Woodrow Wilson could be beaten. The house of cards erected by his antagonists last night was swaying. In fact it was about to fall. The cry, "Wilson is leading!" came as an archangel's clarion, and Democrats emerged from storm cellars in every direction. It was shown that there was a strong probability that the man who had been declared beaten last night had forged ahead and was almost at the goal.

Later in the day these glad tidings were fully confirmed, and the country is now rejoicing in this beautiful November weather, that we are to have four more years of the safe and sound policy of the present occupant of the White House.

The most disconcerted persons in every place in the country are the would-be officeholders, most of whom had selected places they are desirous to fill. Everything had been cut and dried in this city and district, ready for what it was supposed to be a change in the administration next March. The disappointed ones will probably have to await a time with patience and accommodate themselves to a continuation of the benign conditions that have prevailed during the past four years.

The Gazette intimated last week that the winner in the Presidential race might reach the goal by a nose. This seems to have been fulfilled, as while Woodrow Wilson has, it is believed, been elected by a safe majority, it will be a close call.

RESULT IN VIRGINIA

Virginia, like the rock of Gibraltar, stands firm, notwithstanding the angry tempests which at times gather around. Senator Swanson will succeed himself next March in the Senate, and Charles C. Carlin, who has represented this district in the House of Representatives since 1907, will also succeed himself. Democratic Congressmen were elected yesterday in every district, save the Ninth, which will be again represented by Mr. Slemp. Woodrow Wilson received a large majority in the State.

Virginia has remained in the democratic column since 1872, when apathy placed the state in the column of Ulysses S. Grant, who was elected President over Horace Greeley. The suffragans of the Old Dominion have never since been guilty of similar thoughtlessness, and the vote cast yesterday throughout the state shows there is no variableness nor shadow of turning in our old commonwealth.

But, to come back to Mr. Carlin. Attempts have been made for over forty years to elect a republican Congressman from the Eighth District. Each attempt has been a signal failure. Issues have been sprung, there have been splits in the party, boltings from conventions, etc., yet the standard-bearer of the democratic party has always emerged triumphant.

The republicans invariably place a candidate in the field, but this opposition is never seriously considered, as was the case yesterday. The friends of Mr. Carlin lost no sleep over the activities of his rival, and the increased vote received yesterday by the present incumbent from this district is proof conclusive that he is making friends all the time.

It was realized by the republicans of the state months ago that any attempt to defeat Mr. Swanson for Senator would be futile were republicans only to use bludgeons. Hence attempts were made to induce some disappointed democrat to enter the ring. Such a man could not be found, and the junior Senator was allowed to have a walkover.

WINTER AND ITS DEMANDS

The Co-operative Charities of Alexandria are anxious concerning the coming winter. Already the demands made upon this organization are in excess of its capacity, and it is realized that before the snow begins to fly the members will be taxed to their utmost to meet the wants of the deserving poor of the city. The high water mark which the prices of nearly every article of human consumption has attained is viewed with alarm, while the problem of clothing many of the more helpless is hard to solve.

How clothing may be obtained for many is a question which is baffling the ingenuity of the association. A prominent member suggested to a representative of the Gazette recently that while many good people of the community are engaged in rummage sales that cast-off articles which bring but a song might be donated to the poor, which act would be as acceptable to high heaven as selling the same for the benefit of the churches.

The poem read by the Rev. Gypsy Smith during the month's campaign conducted by him in Alexandria struck the mark in some cases, and some people who had heretofore devoted garments they had discarded to those conducting rummage sales are now careful concerning such donations. The Co-operative Charities suggest that they can distribute such articles to the needy during the coming winter.

The members of this organization are careful as to whom they aid. As is well known, they make personal visits to all who apply for aid, and the help rendered is literally to the deserving.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

WILSON WAS CHEERFUL

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 8—In the face of returns up to 10 o'clock indicating the election of Charles E. Hughes, President Wilson and his official family here late last night insisted that news from Western States would be awaited before any concessions were made. The President, surrounded by members of his immediate family, received the returns in his studio at Shadow Lawn. He heard only the more important bulletins by telephone from Secretary Tumulty, who, with White House attaches, received the detailed reports by telegraph at the Executive offices in Asbury Park.

As continued discouraging news came to the executive offices disappointment was generally expressed, but the President himself remained cheerful. He filled in the time between receiving returns by talking with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, and other relatives. Mr. Wilson displayed keen interest in the returns, indicating the political complexion of the next House and Senate. Discouraging as well as hopeful news was sent to him by Secretary Tumulty. No effort was made to conceal the fact that the outlook was not bright. Returns from Western States, however, were eagerly awaited.

Out in the seclusion of Shadow Lawn the President was amid quiet, but the executive offices were surrounded by an excited crowd. Next door a newspaper flashed the bulletins. Pictures of the President and Mr. Hughes were received with applause.

As late reports came to the executive offices by telephone and telegraph and from local Democratic leaders in various states the hopes of the President and those about him began to rise. Strong claims were made that on the final count Mr. Wilson would win.

Apparently the President was the most cheerful person here. Those who talked with him said he showed no impatience. He began receiving returns shortly after 6 o'clock, and after eating dinner with members of his family began getting them again. He waited until he was called to the telephone to receive news.

It was declared that the outcome of the election will make no immediate change in the President's plans. He will go ahead planning for legislation he desires at the December session of Congress. He will remain here until Thursday night, when he goes to Williamstown, Mass., to attend the christening of the child of his daughter, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre. He expects to return to Washington Sunday night.

GIRL KILLS NIECE WITH AX

Staunton, Va., Nov. 8.—Miss Myrtle Dice, 20 year old patient in the Western State Hopsital for the Insane, decapitated her 8 year old niece with an ax today, while the child slept. She was spending a furlough with her sister, the child's mother, who is a member of a prominent Augusta county family.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Alexandria evidence of their merit.

William H. Beach, coppersmith, 417 S. Lee street, Alexandria, says: "My back pained me so badly that I could hardly get about. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and during the night I had to get up every little while. I felt so sore and stiff in the morning that I could hardly get out of bed. I was tired and languid and had no ambition. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at W. F. Creighton and Son's Drug Store, and the first few doses gave me great relief. I used about four boxes and they put my kidneys in good condition. My back never aches now and I feel first-class in every way."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Beach had. Foster-Milburn Co, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW POLISH KINGDOM.

Austrian Archduke or Bavarian Prince Will be Ruler.

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 8.—At a great political meeting in Philharmonic Hall here, the following telegram to Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary was drawn up and forwarded:

"Great Monarchs:

"At this time, so cheerful for the Polish race, when we learn that we shall be free and receive an autonomous state with its own king, its own army and its own government, the heart of every Pole-loving liberty is impressed with a feeing of thankfulness toward those who have freed the Polish people by their good will, and given to them a renewal of autonomous life.

"The victories of your invincible armies have liberated two cities equally dear to Polish hearts, Warsaw and Vitna. The agreement between Germany and Austria-Hungary, on the Polish question, grants us autonomous national existence, the highest good that any people can know, a good which we know and seek because we will have the opportunity to march with all our forces against our traditional enemy, the Muscovite.

"We send your majesties this expression of our gratitude and our assurance that the Polish people will be able to prove their faith to their allies."

Washington, Nov. 8.—The King of Poland will be a Catholic, it was declared on high authority here yesterday. The choice lies, it was said, between an Austrian archduke or a Bavarian prince. Leopold, of Bavaria, it was believed, will be chosen as he has two sons, and his wife, Princess Gisela, is the daughter of Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria-Hungary.

In her viens, it was said, flows the blood of the ancient kings of Poland, with whom the house of Hapsburg formed a marriage alliance.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Between 50 and 60 Persons Drown in Street Car Accident.

Boston, Nov. 8. — Between fifty and sixty persons were drowned without a fighting chance for their lives when a crowded street car drove head first through the open draw of the Summer street extension bridge into the waters of Fort Point Channel, shortly before 5:30 o'clock yesterday evening. The car was bound from South Boston toward Boston. According to the conductor, George McKeen, there were 62 passengers in the car, mostly employes of South Boston factories. But eight persons have been reported saved. These included Gerard Walsh, motorman, who was arrested, charged with manslaughter, and Conductor McKeen.

According to the story told by the motorman to the police, the big arc light over the center of the bridge, which generally illuminates the approach, was out. A wagon in the car tracks ahead of the car, he says, shut off his view of the red lamp which witnesses say was hanging on the gates of the draw. The brakes failed to work, the car crashed through the gates, dived headlong and plunged into the water below.

The accident happened just at the evening rush hour. Thousands of workers soon gathered on both banks of the channel.

Firemen and police were called and Mayor Curley arrived quickly to take charge of the work of rescue of possible living and of the bodies of the dead.

While fire apparatus lined both sides of the draw, a fire boat and police boats raced to the channel, through which was flowing an outgoing tide. The police in rowboats patrolled the stream, picking up bodies. Preparations were hastily made for bringing lighters to the scene and raising the car.

William Good broke through a window and succeeded in raising himself to the surface. His head was terribly bruised and he was suffering from internal injuries. Firemen aided him to reach the bridge on a ladder which was lowered over the side.

Arthur Smith and John McDonald, who were near the front vestibule, when the car went through the bridge broke through windows and were found swimming some distance from the car. They were picked up by firemen and collapsed as soon as they were brought on the bridge. Both are suffering from serious bruises.

John McDonald, of Roxbury, was sitting in the rear of the car and as it started to go through the bridge had the presence of mind to jump into the water. After swimming for a while he was picked up by one of the draw tenders.

Nelson McFarland, of Dorchester, and Frank McPartland, of Roxbury, were standing on the platform. They jumped, swan to shore and were hauled to land.

The channel at this point is approximately seventy-five feet deep, and the drop from the bridge to the surface of the water is estimated at forty feet.

In addition to a powerful seagoing tug, a destroyer was sent from Charleston. While search went on the police had a difficult task in restraining the 20,000 spectators from breaking through the lines.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Daniel Pellegrin, of Crafts, Putnam County, N. Y., was arraigned before Police Justice Clark in Bedford, accused of climbing in the window of Miss May Santor and kissing her. She alleged he was trapped by the breaking of a rope as he slid down it. Miss Santor was awakened by a man climbing over the window sill. He felt about her pillow, she told the police, and kissed her. Then she said, he started to slide down a rope, fastened to the window sill, ten feet to the ground. The rope, she said, broke and he fell, injuring his ankle.

Michael Masko, aged 41, of Little Falls, N. Y., confessed to the police yesterday that he killed Rosalino Cripotti, chopped his body to pieces packed it in a trunk, carried it to an old dump on the outskirts of the city and left it there, where it was discovered several days ago by boys who were at play. The wife of the prisoner also revealed to the police her knowledge concerning the crime, and the police state that it agrees in every detail with the confession of Masko. Jealousy was the motive for the murder.

Mrs. Polly Johnson, forewoman in the umbrella factory of Littman and Cohen, New York was examining the one dollar grade of umbrellas when a large unset diamond, valued at $500, fell from one of them as she opened it. Mrs. Johnson took the gem to Louis H. Cohen, member of the firm, and soon had George Van Cleaf, retired buyer for department stores, at the office. Mr. Van Cleaf identified the diamond as the one which had dropped from his watch fob Hallowe'en when the umbrella firm entertained 800 customers and friends at a party in its warerooms.

The passenger steamship Arabia, of the Peninsula and Oriental Line, bound from Sydney, New South Wales, for England was torpedoed and sunk, according to a report received in London. All her passengers are believed to have been saved. The Arabia registered 7,933 tons and was built in 1898. It is probable that the disaster occurred in Mediterranean waters.

Charged with shooting from his window into a group of boys, wounding one of them, because they made such a noise he could stand it no longer, Rev. Hugo Holmgren, 50 years old, pastor of the Swedish Chapel of St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, is in Bellevue for observation as to his sanity. His wife and friends declare he is suffering from overwork.

Unless there is an unexpected change in later returns, there is likely to be a woman in the next House of Representatives. The election of Mrs. Jeannette Rankins (independent) to Congress is conceded by the leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties late last night. Lawyers say there is no legal bar to her taking her seat. The vote of the women was fairly divided between the parties, but women stood remarkably by women candidates and for prohibition, which won.

JUBILATION IN FAMILY

Hughes's Household Gather About Him in Hotel Astor

New York, Nov. 8—At 9 o'clock last night Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes ran to the side of her husband in their suite in the Hotel Astor, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. She repeated the caress three times.

"I'm so glad, so glad!" she cried. "You are the President of the United States."

The little woman was weeping like a girl. Her husband for the first time in the evening showing traces of emotion—provoked more by his wife's fervor than by his own sense of victory—placed his arms around her and told her to be calm.

The candidate's three daughters—Elizabeth, Helen and Catherine—were well-nigh hysterical. The candidate's son, Charles Evans, Jr., shook his hand wildly and placed an arm about the quiet man's shoulder.

Dr. Colin Carter, Mrs. Hughes' brother, was boyish in his delight and attempted no concealment of it.

Miss Dorothy Radley, granddaughter of William C. Murchenheim, proprietor of the hotel, entered the suite bearing a huge basket containing 100 American Beauty roses.

From the adjoining rooms there came a roar that was nothing less than a wild song of victory. On the roof of the hotel a huge American flag had been raised and from the corners fierce searchlights played upon it.

Over the stone doors of the hotel an enormous electric sign had been hung and suddenly it flared alight with the letters Hughes. From the street below there came a wild clamor. There arose a thousand calls for "Hughes," "Hughes."

Thus the news came to Charles Evans Hughes.

And for all the emotion he displayed—save for the moment when his wife wept happily before his eyes—he might have yet been the taciturn justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

In rooms near by the one he occupied men were compiling tables. When the news came that the New York World, President Wilson's personal organ, conceded the election of the Republican candidate, the maddened men in the nearby rooms fell back in their chairs. It was for them, now, to merely figure up the number of electoral votes. Further conjecture was unnecessary.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER

Man Captured on Freight Train Alleged to Have Shot Stepfather

George Wade, who stands charged with the murder of James Nathaniel Gordon, his stepfather, yesterday was arrested by Sheriff W. Webb Sydnor and special Agent F. C. Cannaday, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, aboard a freight train at Acca Station in Richmond. He was taken to the Henrico County Jail, where he will be confined, pending a preliminary hearing within the next day or two.

Information of Wade's presence on the train, which he was riding as a hobo, was given by one of the crew, who telephoned the fact to Mr. Cannaday from Milford, a station near Fredericksburg. Mr. Cannaday immediately got in communication with Sheriff Sydnor, and the two had no difficulty in placing their man under arrested at Acca. He boarded the train at Alexandria.

The murder, which Wade admitted in his cell last night, was committed on the morning of September 6, near Wistar Station, Henrico County. There had existed a deadly feud between the two men since the marriage of Gordon to Wade's mother more than ten years ago. Once before he had knocked the stepfather in the head with an ax and had served six months in jail.

Wade, who is a crank, and who has periodical spells of ill temper, was reported to have been in a terrible humor on the morning of the tragedy The mother, to escape threatened injury at the hands of her son, had fled to the home of A. B. Shelton, a neighbor. Mr. Gordon, who long ago had been forced to leave his wife's home because of Wade, soon after was seen headed in the direction of the Wade home. A warning from Shelton failed to stop him. Mr. Shelton and Mrs. Gordon found him a short time later sitting bolt upright in his chair, with a bullet in his head. The stepson had gone.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

Where the Southern's Money Goes

IN the ten years ending June 1, 1916, the Southern Railway Company deposited in the banks in the South the sum of $809,653,804.

In 1915 the entire deposits in all banks in the South amounted to $887,764,357.

The money of the Southern Railway stays in the South, where it is used in the development of the territory served and in the upbuilding of the service rendered.

The welfare of the South and of the Southern Railway are one.
